

Business Valuation & Litigation Support

You may never know what is around the next corner. Business conditions change, personal lives change, and partners change. When circumstances around your business evolve, it is often vital that a reliable valuation of your business be completed.

Strothman & Company's provides the highest quality valuation services, delivered with a personal touch, at fees that provide real value for our clients. Strothman & Company specializes in the valuation of closely-held companies, professional practices, and partnership interests. We perform business valuations on a confidential basis for business owners and their professional advisors.

Situations where you or your clients may need valuations include:

- Purchase/sale of a business
- Succession planning
- Estate and gift tax planning
- Divorce
- Buy/sell agreements
- Shareholder disputes
- Reorganization

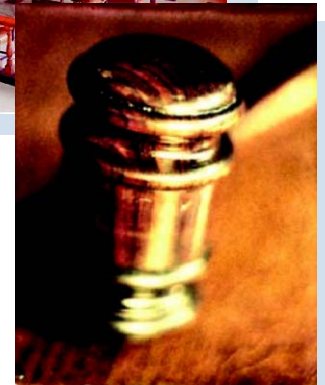

Strothman & Company's valuation team has a proven track record of integrity, objectivity, sound judgment, and commitment to quality service. We combine sophisticated understanding of accounting, taxation, financial statement analysis, and business operations with demonstrated competence in valuations to produce well-reasoned and objective reports.

Today's litigious society increasingly presents attorneys with cases involving complex financial and accounting issues. Many cases involve reams of accounting, financial, statistical and economic information. Preparing for court can require analyzing large quantities of technical evidence, testimony and documentation - all within rigid time constraints.

Strothman & Company understands the subtleties of financial issues the way an attorney understands nuances in the law. We can provide you with specialized technical resources that support your efforts throughout all phases of the litigation process. The proper advice and analysis in these instances will enhance the litigation strategy, your negotiating position, the likelihood of a satisfactory out-of-court settlement, the probability of winning the case and enhancing or minimizing the settlement amount, all of which enhances the satisfaction of your client.

We provide damages reports in the following litigation areas:

- Breach of contract
- Breach of fiduciary duty
- Lost profits for damage calculation
- Fraud and forensic investigation
- Patent infringement
